I am incredibly pleased to introduce and welcome Corrine Chen to the ALS family as a Technical Assistant on our Client Service team!

Corrine joined ALS in Sep 2020 as an intern for our Fall 2020 internship program. Corrine is originally from Taiwan and has been studying in the US for almost two years. She spent four months in the internship program working with the Client Service team. As an intern, Corrine was responsible for assisting the Account Manager in reviewing insurance policies, managing and assessing risk exposures for Clients by reviewing risk mitigation strategies and external stakeholder requirements. Corrine learned the function of the Technical Assistant during the program to be better prepared to be in a full time role come February 1, 2021.

Corrine is a recent graduate from Columbia University with a Master's degree in Enterprise Risk Management. She obtained her Bachelor's degree from the City University of Hong Kong and majored in Quantitative Finance and Risk Management. Corrine is a critical thinker and devises creative solutions to problems. She is focused on managing the day to day activity for the Client accounts she is involved in and communicates well with her peers and leaders to allow open items to be brought to conclusion.

Before joining ALS Corrine worked as a Credit Risk Analyst for a bank in Hong Kong. Corrine was responsible for conducting independent credit analysis of syndicated loan facilities and also worked on commercial loan requests. During Corrine's studies and working in Hong Kong, she learned a lot about risk models and risk measurements as well as conducted case studies. This further drove home the need for risk management and her high interest in pursuing a career in the risk management field. Corrine is also now pursuing her Construction Risk and Insurance Specialist (CRIS) designation as well as a certification as a Financial Risk Manager (FRM).

Corrine enjoys a good cup of coffee and is a dog lover! Corrine adopted a Maltese named "Xin Xin" which means "happy heart" seven years ago. Xin Xin makes Corrine's heart happy for sure! Corrine also enjoys traveling, yoga, and baking when not spending time with her friends.

I feel confident in Corrine's abilities to further enhance our team's risk management expertise.

Please join me in extending a very warm welcome to Corrine!

Warmest Regards!

Albert Sica, Managing Principal
